Peter Fry (Head, The Willink School) said:

“The Willink congratulates our many students who have achieved so well this year – the schools’ largest year 13 cohort. This is a considerable achievement, particularly following the rollercoaster of the last few years, and they thoroughly deserve their successes. My thanks to staff not only for their teaching, but also for the outstanding personal advice and guidance provided to students. Although mainly due to the readjustment in grades in England post Covid, the proportion of students achieving the highest grades A-B were down on recent years, the results are up compared to 2019. We are delighted to report that most of our students have secured the grades they required to pursue a wide range of courses all over the country.”
